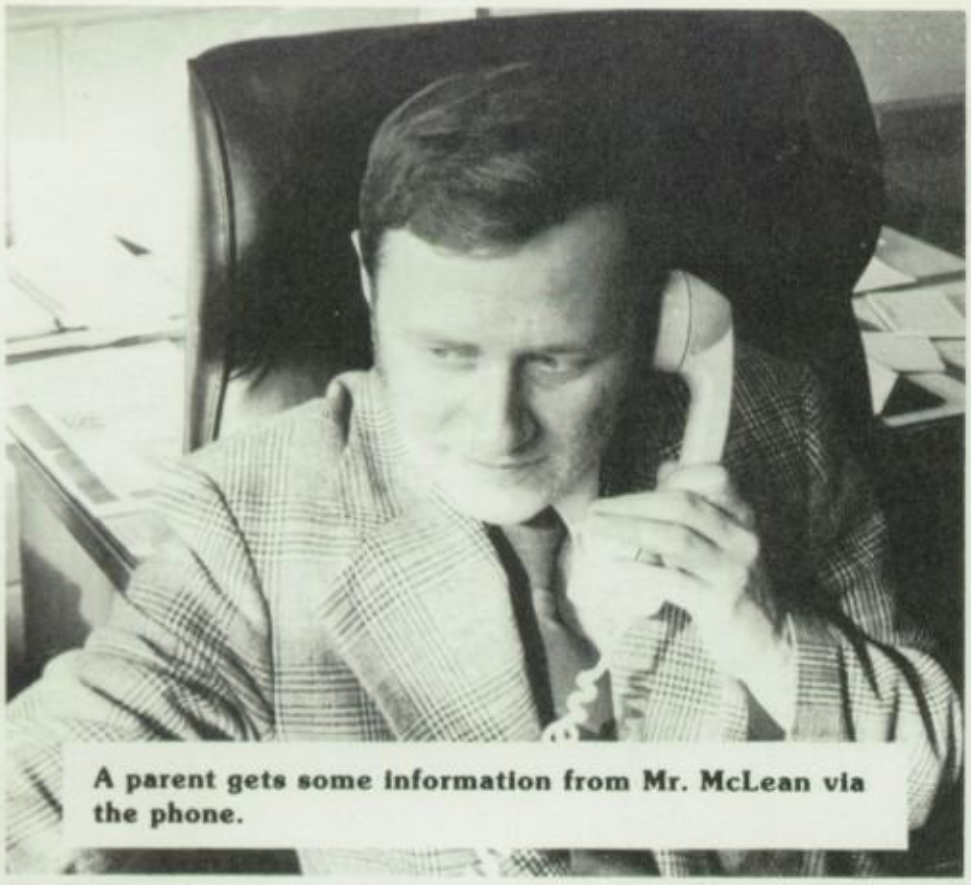
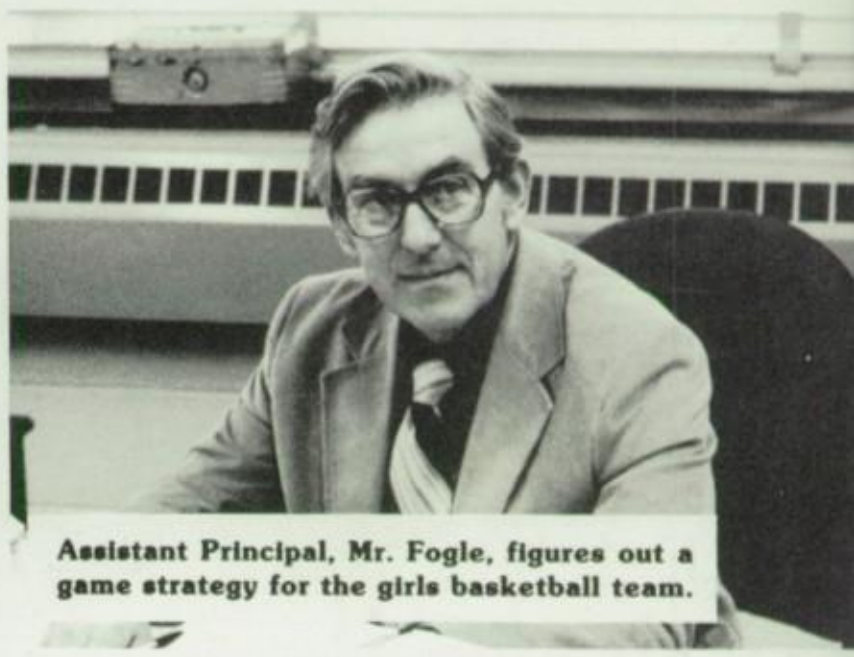
FACULTY



A parent gets some information from Mr. McLean via the phone.

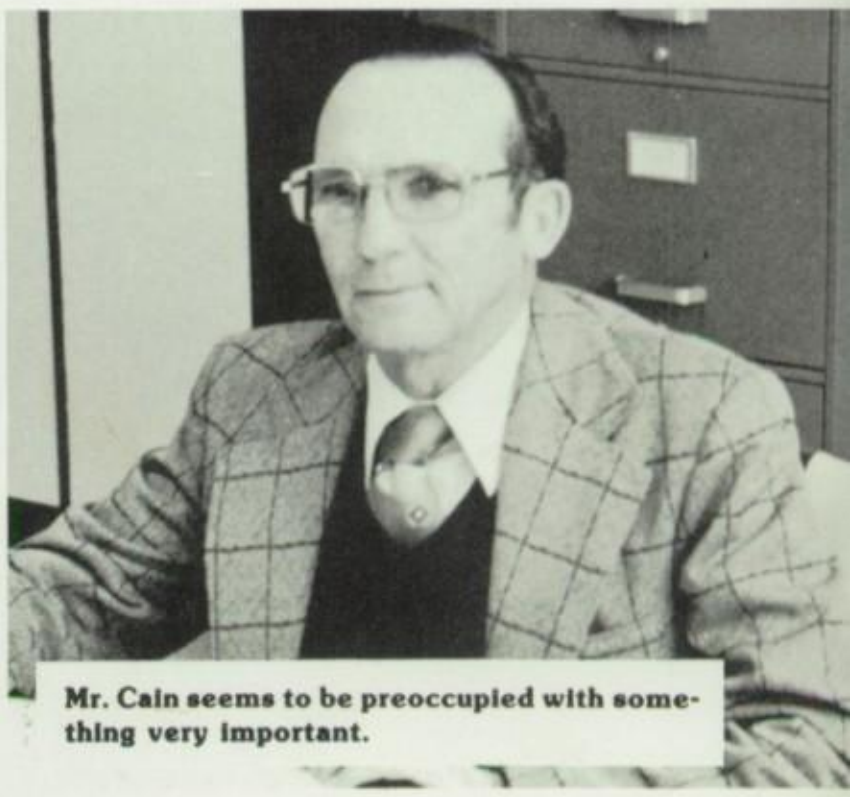
Mrs. Swonger and Mrs. Coen take time out from their busy day.

Mrs. Croskey, Mrs. Cindia and Mrs. Leffell flash a smile.



Assistant Principal, Mr. Fogle, figures out a game strategy for the girls basketball team.

Mrs. Shere busily checks out library books.

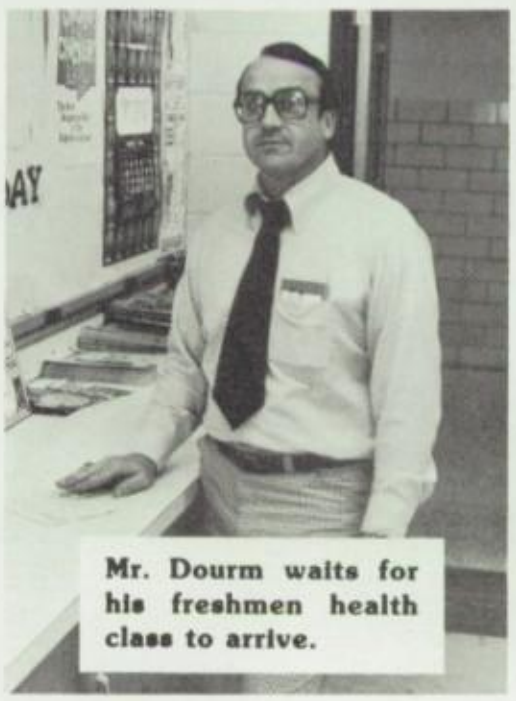


Mr. Cain seems to be preoccupied with something very important.

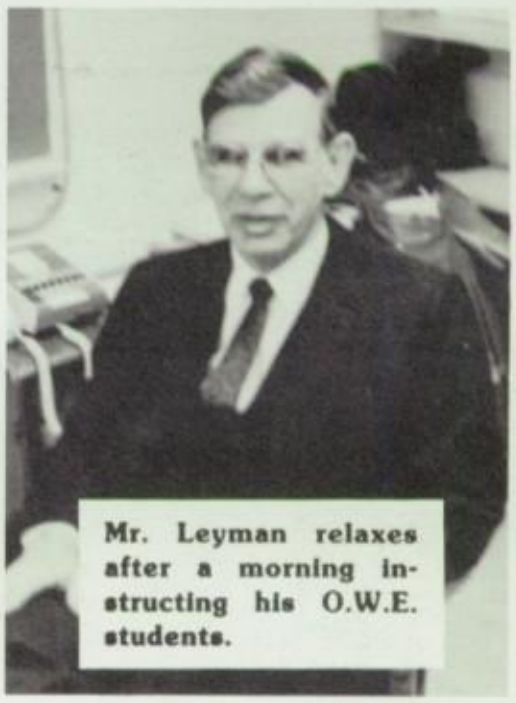
Richard Cantleberry, Wilbur Haas, Richard Stucky and Sue Piciacchio serve on the Board of Education along with Fritz Leeman.

Dr. Parrot will assume the duties of Superintendent next year.

Principal Mr. Cline sports his "Blue Pride" button.



Mr. Dourm waits for his freshmen health class to arrive.

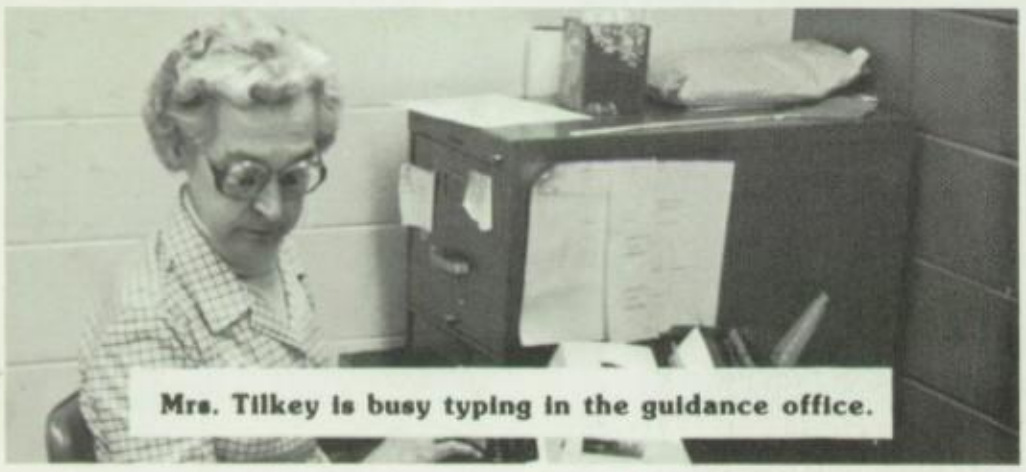


Mr. Leyman relaxes after a morning instructing his O.W.E. students.

The lecturing . . . the grading of papers . . . helping us . . . kidding us . . . monitoring the halls and listening to a classroom at test time, are all in a day's work for our faculty.

These ladies are responsible for making lunch everyone's favorite "subject."

Mrs. Nestor and Mr. Margazano find their phys. ed. classes enjoyable.

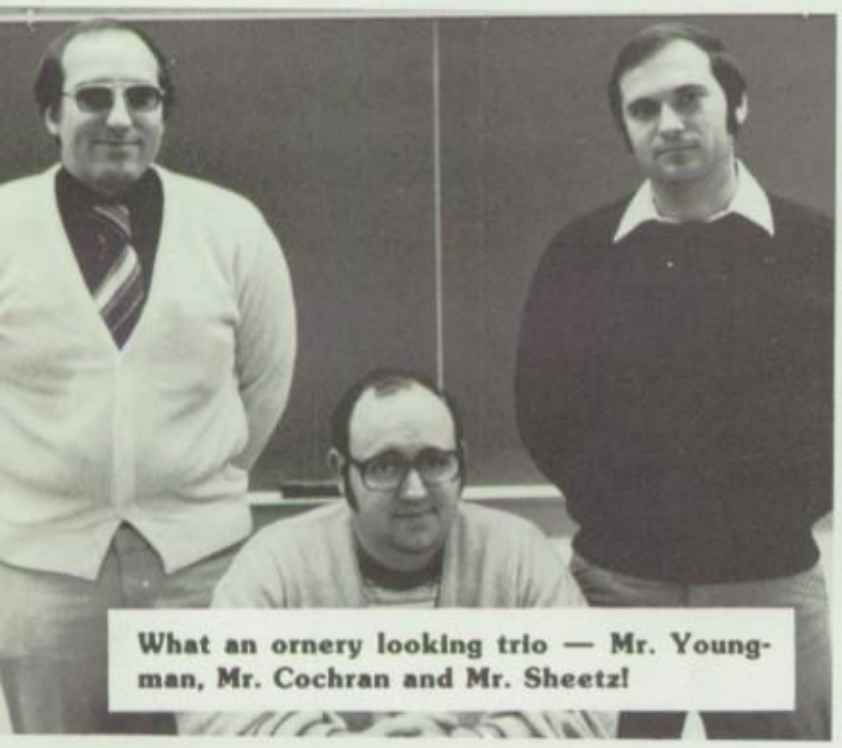


Mrs. Tilkey is busy typing in the guidance office.

Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Cotton and Mrs. Tasseff help make the Board of Education office a little more efficient.

Mrs. Simmons smiles through another busy day.

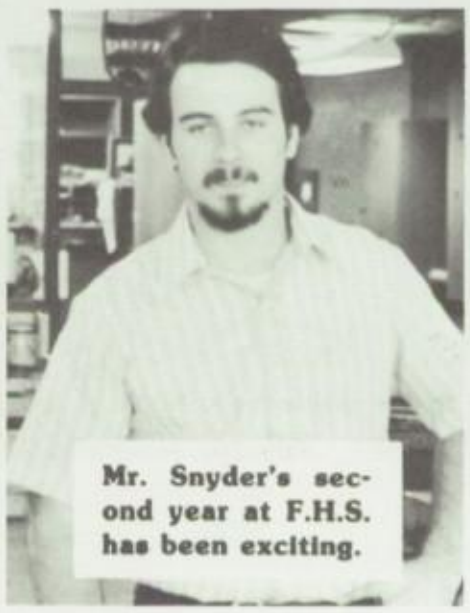
Mrs. Leyman enjoys helping her typing students with their problems.



What an ornery looking trio — Mr. Youngman, Mr. Cochran and Mr. Sheetz!

Mrs. Kilchenman lends a helping hand to Marcia Dunlevy.

Mrs. Hysong handles the ticket money.

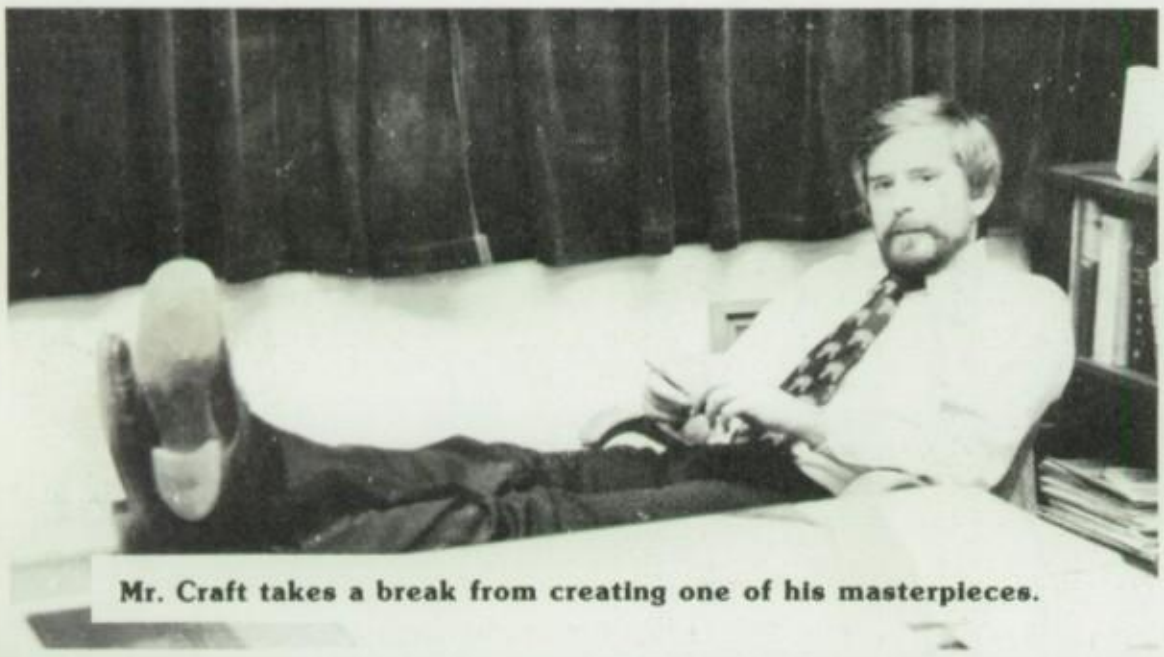


Mr. Snyder's second year at F.H.S. has been exciting.

Mr. Brown offers a warm welcome to his shop students.

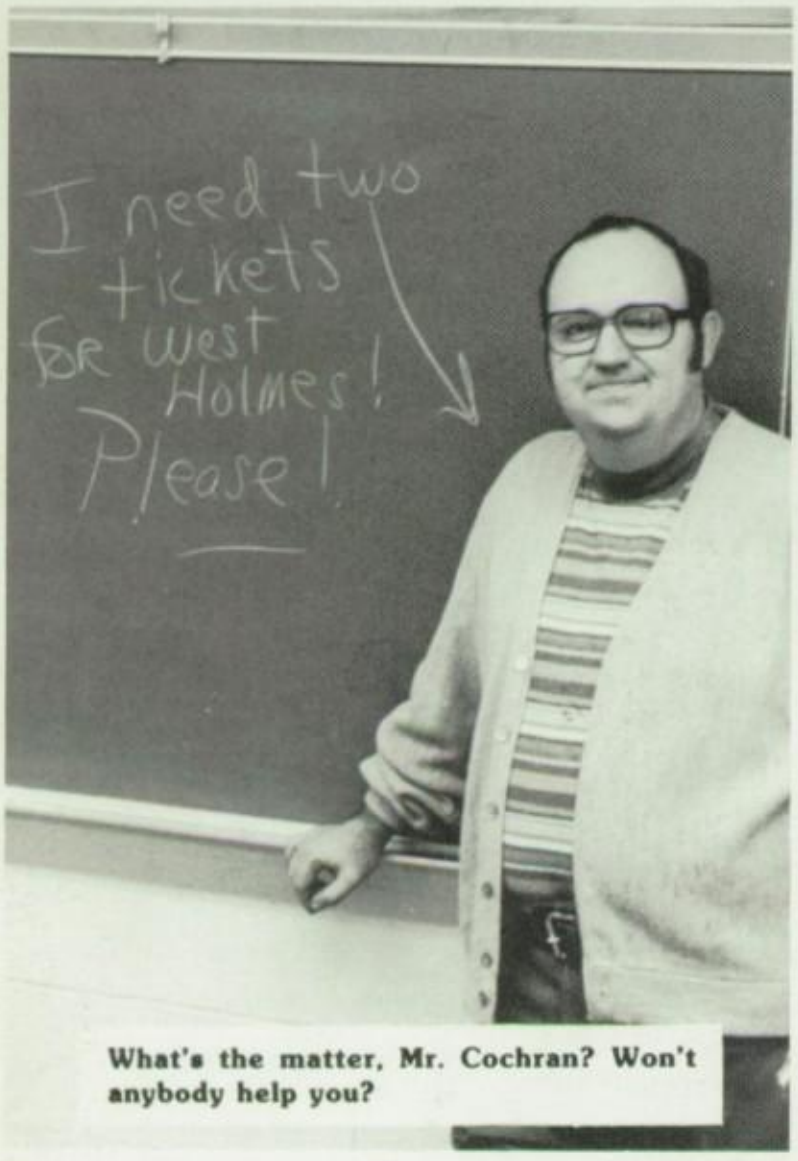
ADMINISTRATION KEEPS F.H.S. RUNNING SMOOTHLY

FACULTY WILLING TO HELP



Mr. Craft takes a break from creating one of his masterpieces.

Mrs. Simmons tries to keep the office organized.

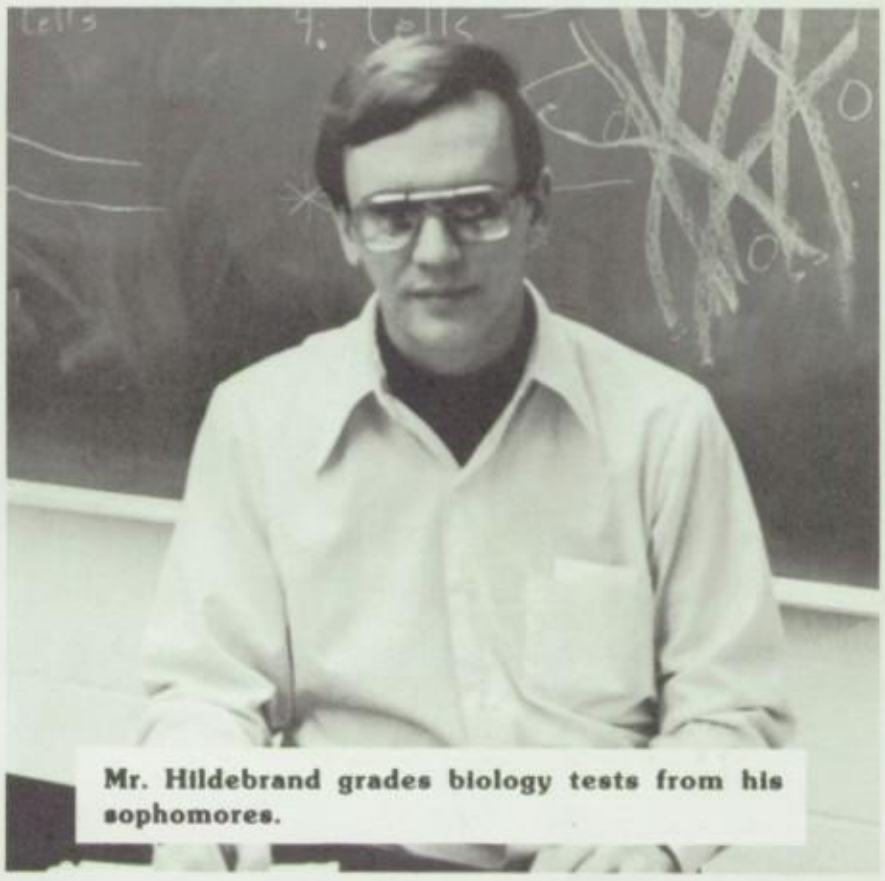


What's the matter, Mr. Cochran? Won't anybody help you?

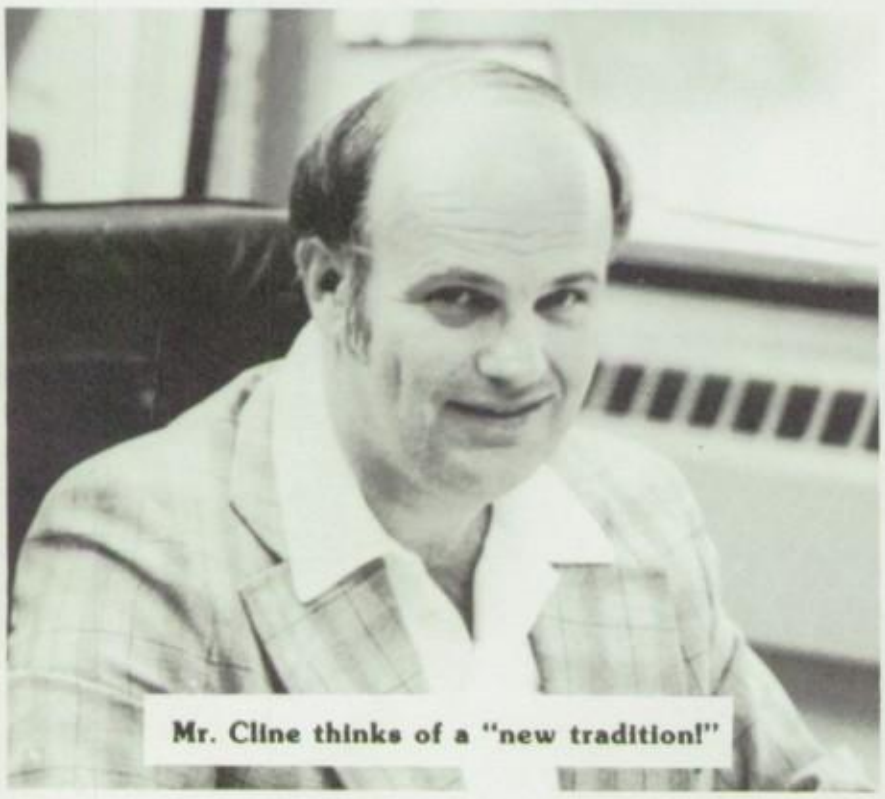
Mrs. Weisgarber makes up a lesson plan for English class.

Miss Frailly flashes a smile while grading papers for her English class.

Mr. Binder discusses a European trip with Mr. Snyder.



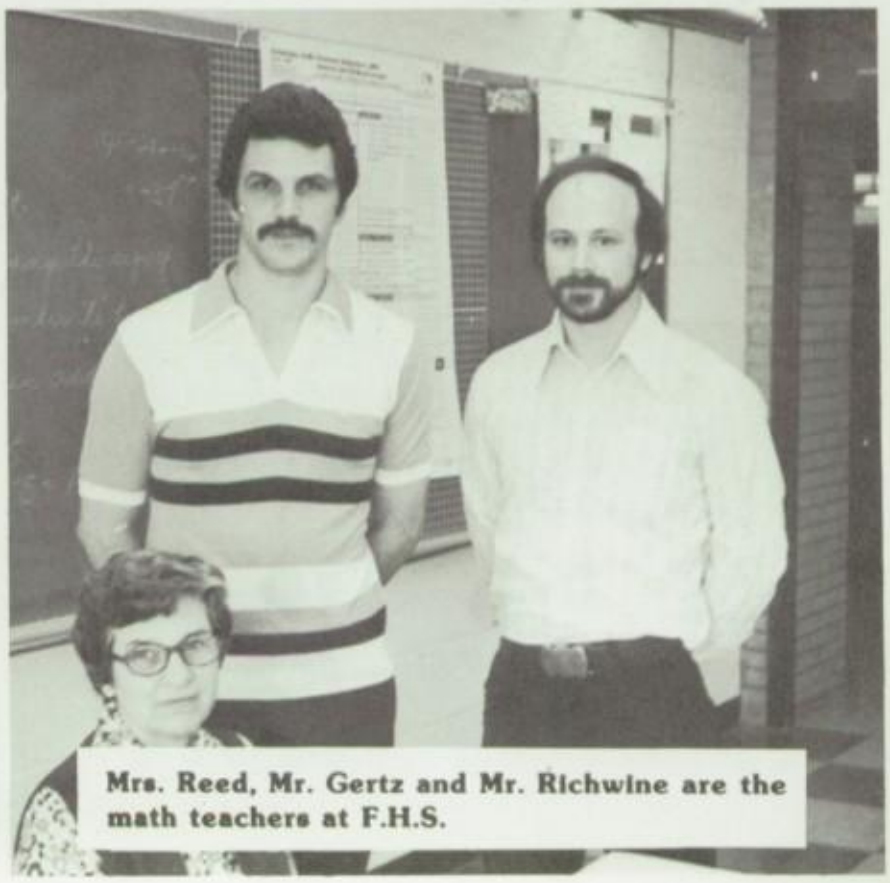
Mr. Hildebrand grades biology tests from his sophomores.



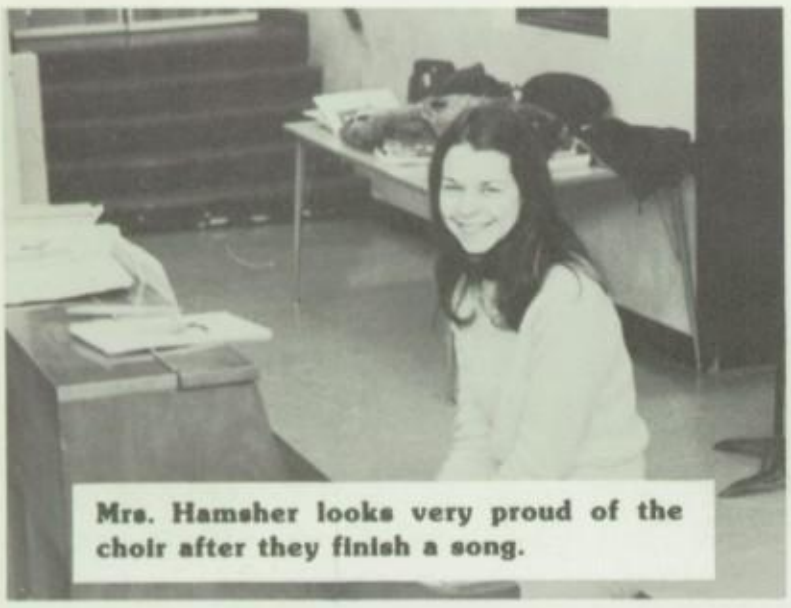
Mr. Cline thinks of a "new tradition!"

Mrs. Nestor enjoys her gym classes.

Mr. Beach explains an experiment to one of his students.

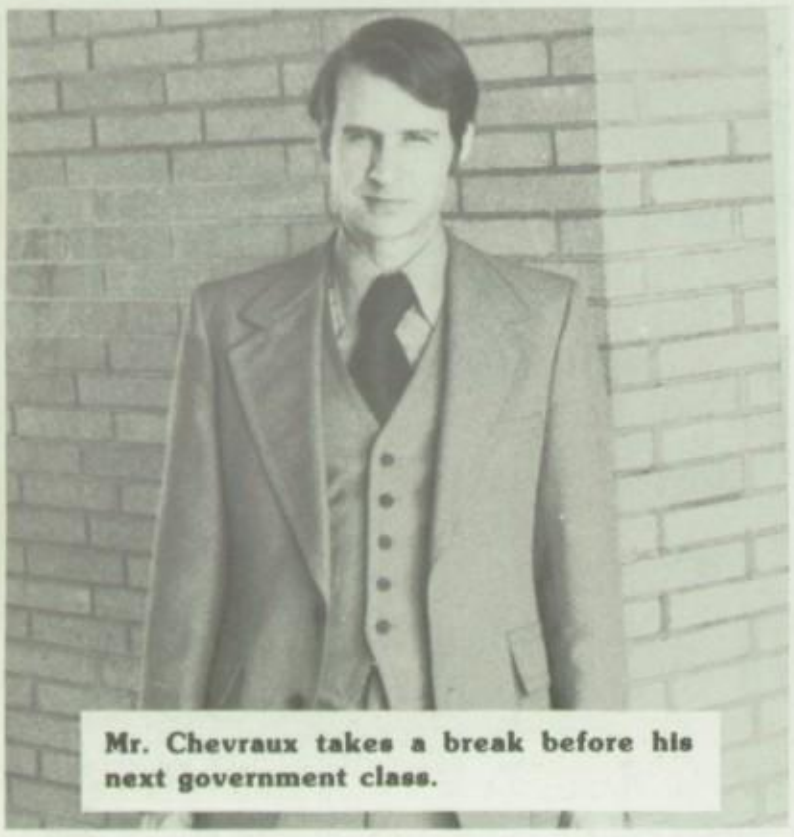


Mrs. Reed, Mr. Gertz and Mr. Richwine are the math teachers at F.H.S.



Mrs. Hamsher looks very proud of the choir after they finish a song.

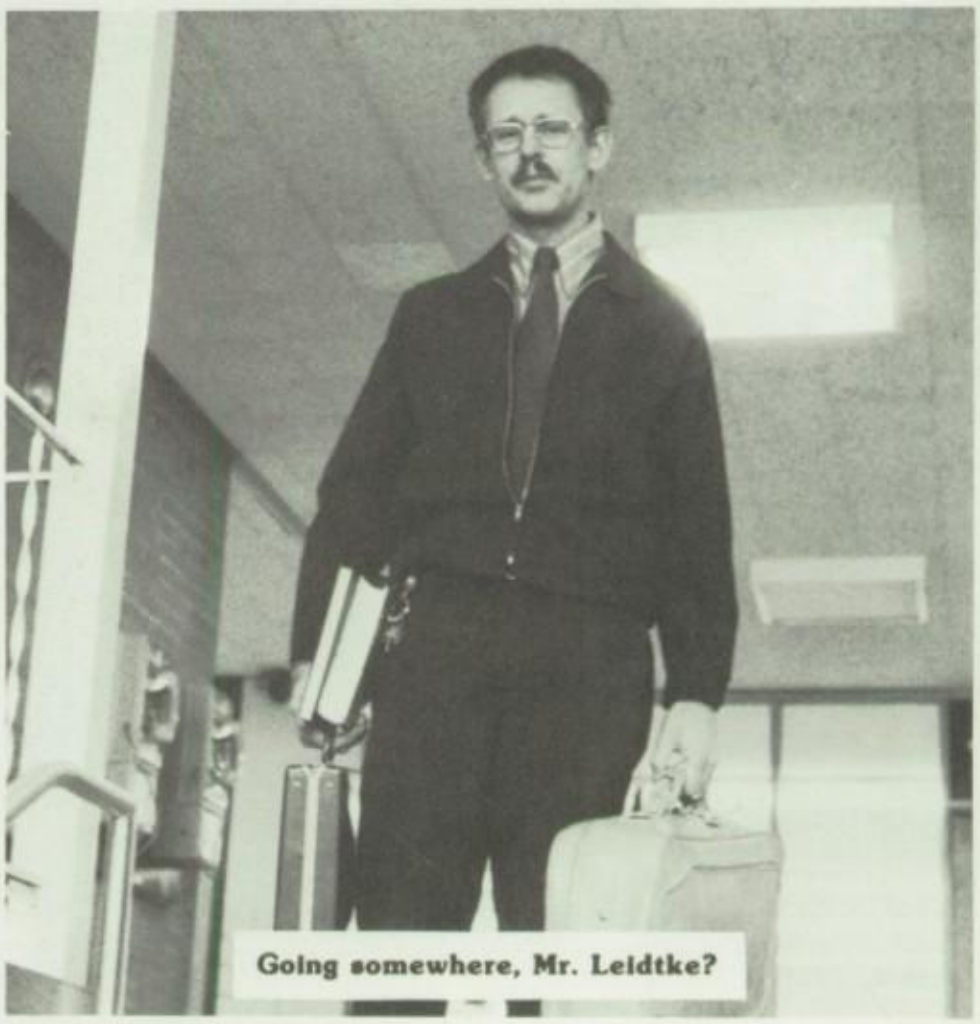
Mr. Maltarich watches a freshmen phys. ed. class, looking for some promising football players.



Mr. Chevraux takes a break before his next government class.

THEY CREATE ORDER OUT OF ORGANIZED CONFUSION

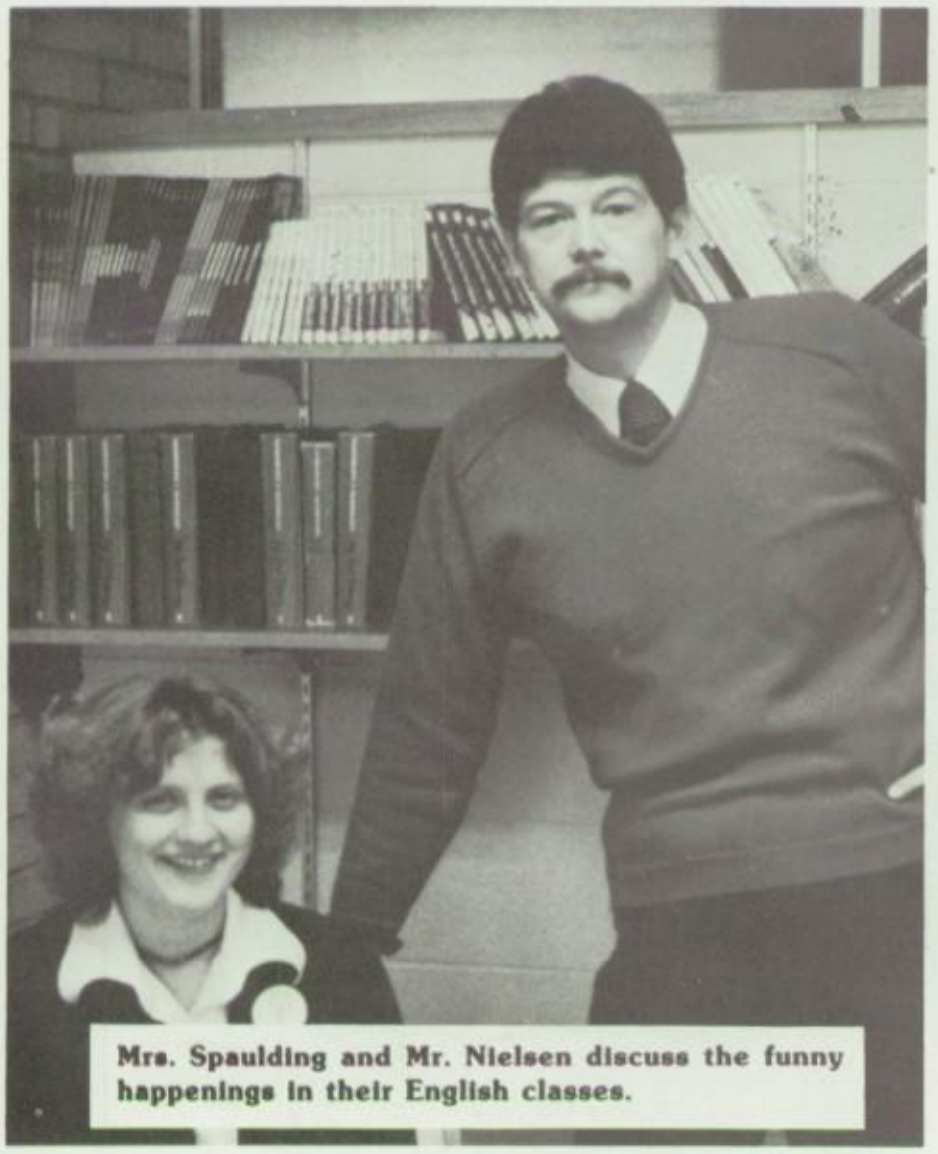
Mrs. Dawson, Miss Troup and Ms. Angerman get together to talk about some home ec. courses.



Going somewhere, Mr. Leidtke?

Mr. Craft relaxes after one of his art classes.

Webster defines faculty as "teachers in a school or college." Yet, as is the case in all definitive attempts, the person being defined suffers greatly. In such a definition, there is no room left for being human, and every Fairless teacher is human. The good kind! These are the people that, in a sense, create F.H.S.



Mrs. Spaulding and Mr. Nielsen discuss the funny happenings in their English classes.

Doc Welling and Mr. Airhart plan for their upcoming English classes.

ALWAYS AT WORK . . . FOR OUR INTEREST

Mr. Hutchinson serves as F.H.S. clerk.

Mr. Richwine is a friend as well as a teacher.

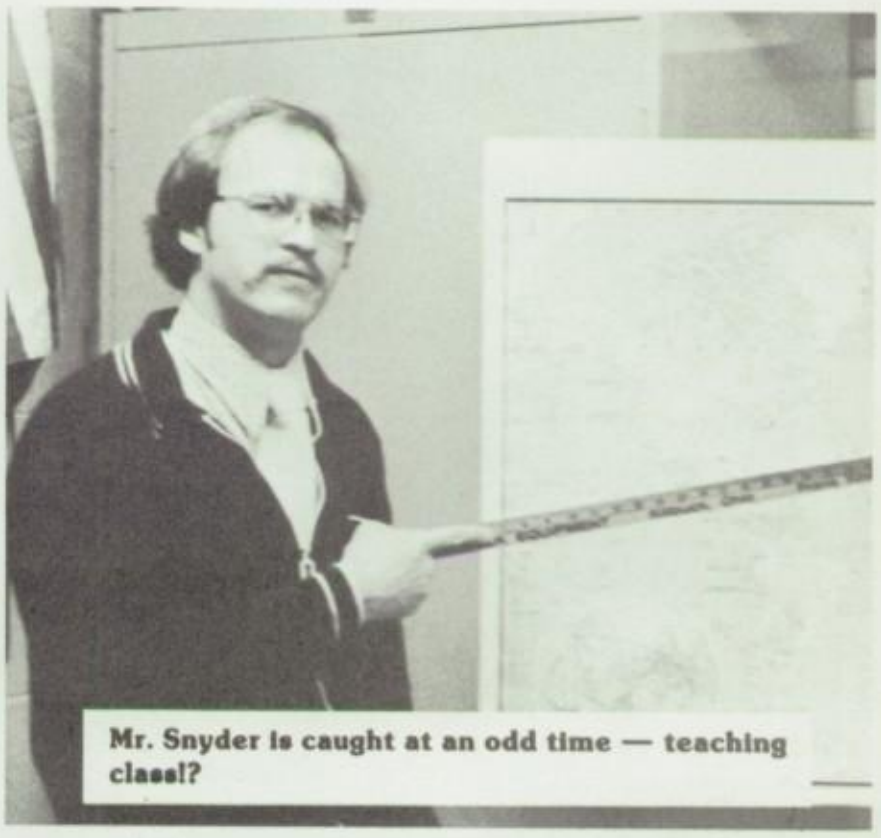
Mrs. Cline is busy working the copying machine.

Athletic Director, Mr. Youngman, figures out the game schedules for F.H.S.

Band director Mr. Ribo looks surprised.

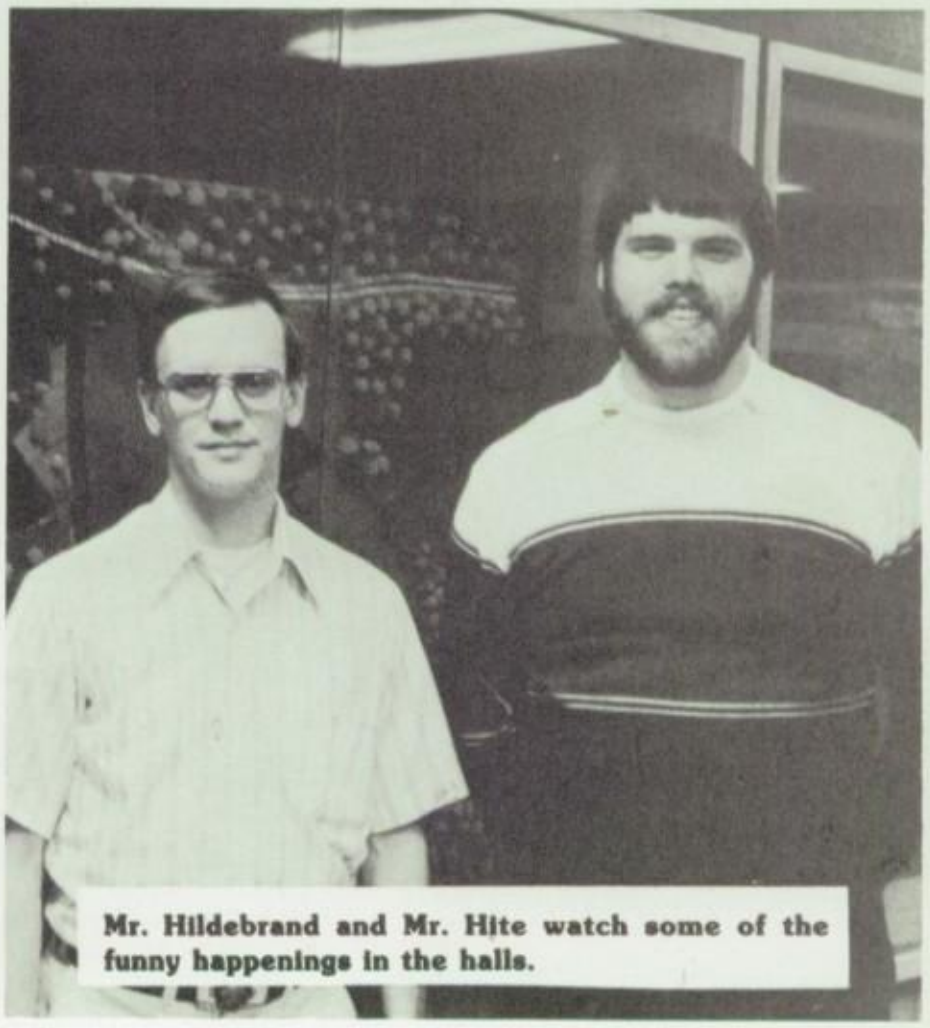
Mr. Herris is busy repairing an instrument.

Mr. Hissong must have told a not-so-funny joke to Miss Burian.



Mr. Snyder is caught at an odd time — teaching class!?

Mr. Gruber and Mr. Beach are obviously talking about the wonderful world of science.



Mr. Hildebrand and Mr. Hite watch some of the funny happenings in the halls.

FLOCK NABS HOMECOMING VICTORY

This year's football Homecoming will be long remembered. Our football team defeated Triway 32 - 0 for the first homecoming victory in the new Brideweser Stadium. The theme of the homecoming was "What I Did for Love." The Music Service of Akron provided the music for the dance.

Beth Musacchia is being crowned by last year's football Queen DeeDee Colaner.

The new queen, Beth Musacchi, flashes a smile to the crowd.

The 1979 Football Homecoming Queen and her court take time out for the camera.

Our junior attendant, Wendy Fowler, waits to ride into the new stadium.

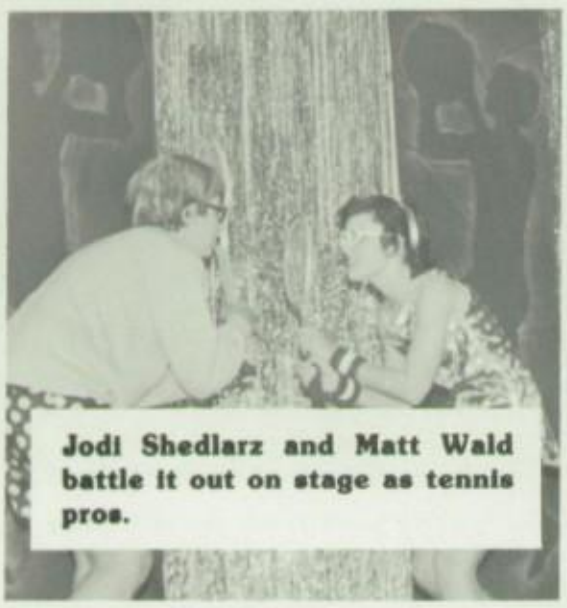
Denise Alexander, the sophomore attendant, flashes a pretty smile.

Tracy Kimble, senior attendant, smiles as she waits with her escort.

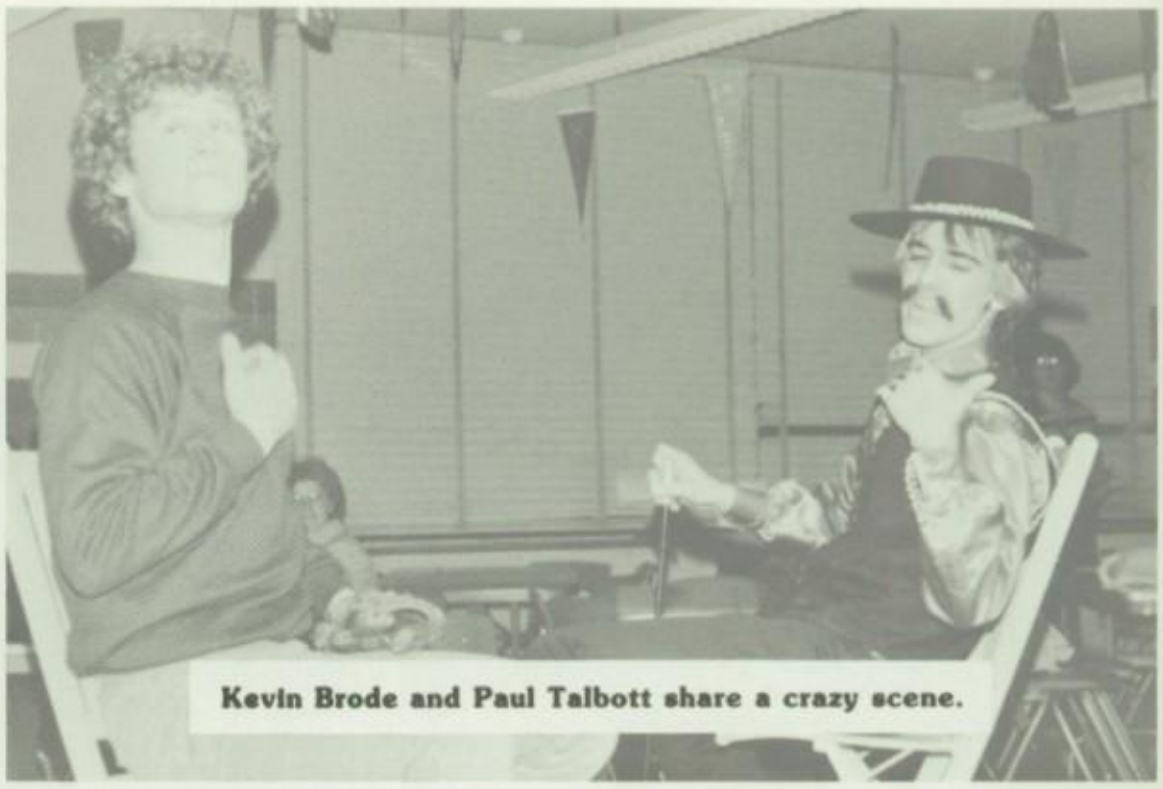
Last year's queen, DeeDee Colaner, is escorted by co - captains Jeff Fowler and Dan Skirtich.

Freshman attendant, Cindy Hewitt, seems to enjoy her ride in the Corvette.

Greg Arney goes over his before-the-game routine.

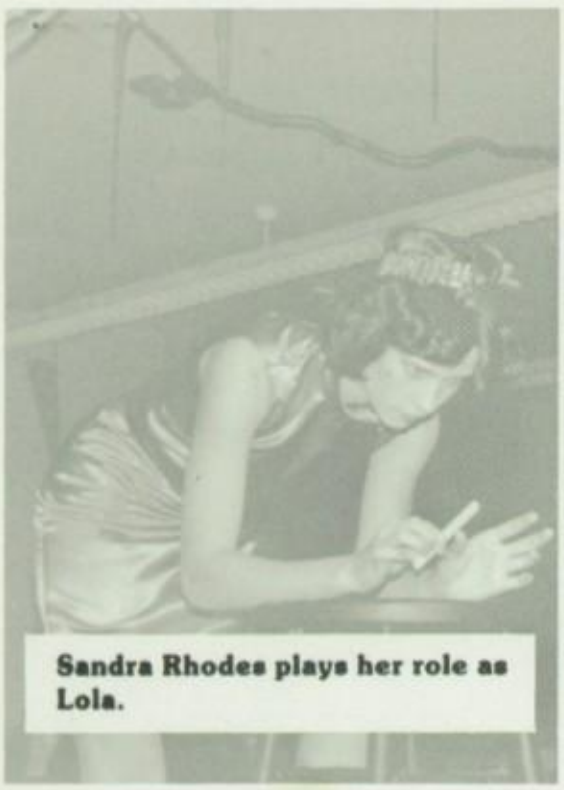


Jodi Shedlarz and Matt Wald battle it out on stage as tennis pros.



Kevin Brode and Paul Talbott share a crazy scene.

The salute to "Sports Fever" ends in victory.



Sandra Rhodes plays her role as Lola.

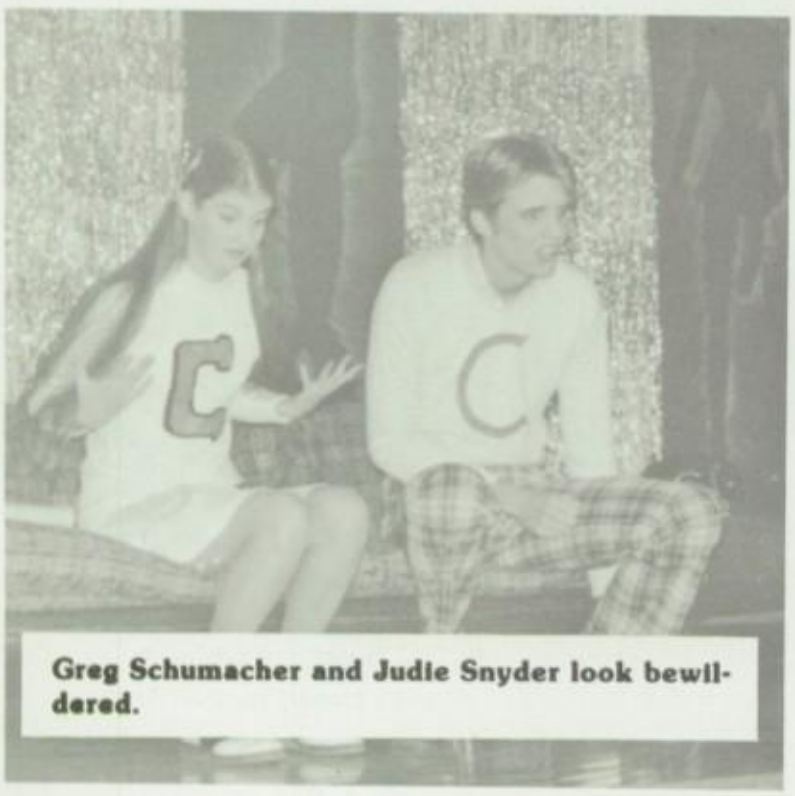
Ed Tusing tries to convince Keith Kaser and Sharon Laney that he is fit to fight.

F.H.S. CATCHES "SPORTS FEVER"

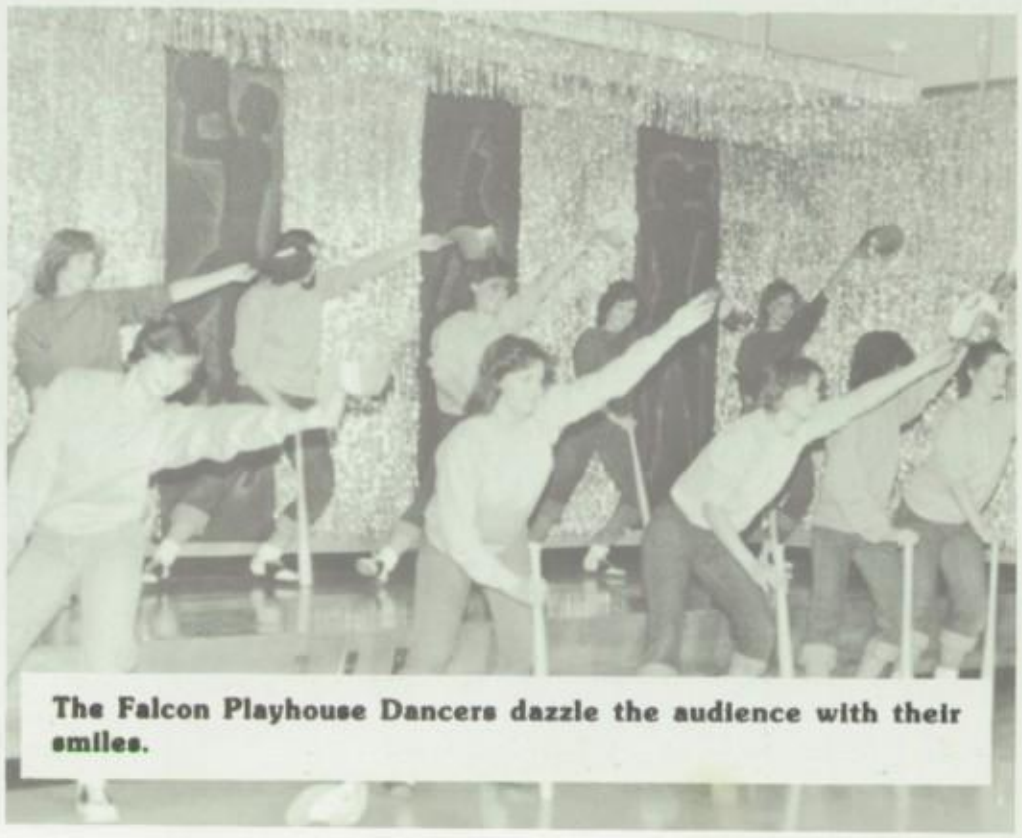
A salute to all sports at the F.H.S. was performed by Falcon Playhouse in their annual fall production.

Joel Marchand is escorted to his platform by Lisa Reynolds.

Jim Giessler and Julie Fritz sock it to the audience.



Greg Schumacher and Judie Snyder look bewildered.

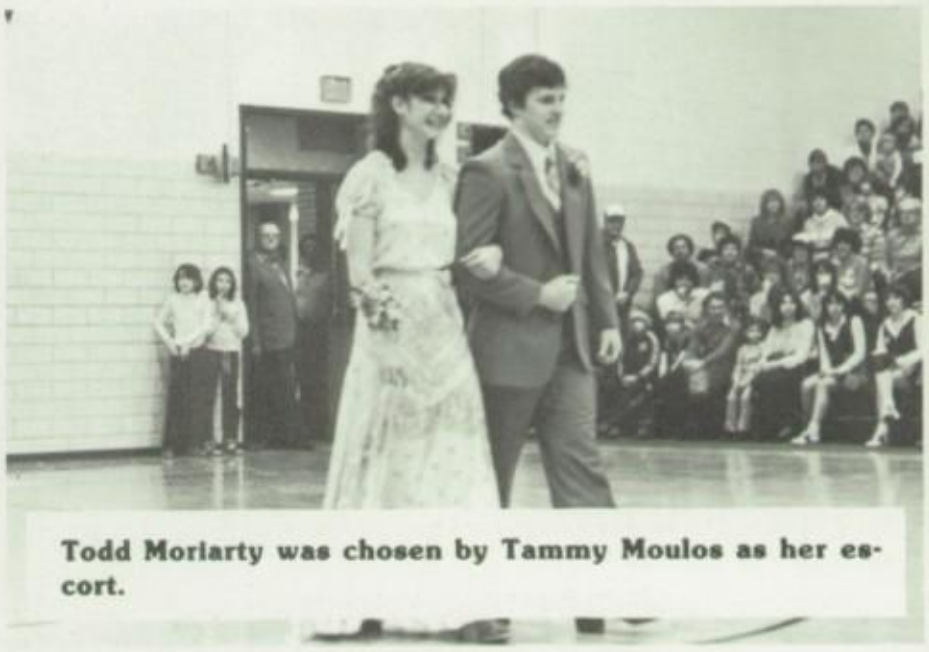


The Falcon Playhouse Dancers dazzle the audience with their smiles.

Jackie Kohlmeier and her escort Scott Burdge are introduced.

Marcia Dunlevy is escorted by Dan Skirtich.

Peggy Gardner chose Jeff Fowler as her escort.



Todd Moriarty was chosen by Tammy Moulos as her escort.

Jack Dibell escorted JoAnn Schweizer.

One of these five girls will reign as the 1980 Basketball Homecoming Queen.

MARCIA DUNLEVY REIGNS OVER BASKETBALL HOMECOMING

The band Maltese helped the 1980 Basketball Homecoming begin a new tradition. The dance was held Saturday night with the theme "Babe" after the Falcons conquered Tusky Valley 77-55 on Friday.

Queen Marcia Dunlevy receives help from attendant Peggy Gardner.

Are those guys the ones the girls really chose to be their homecoming escorts?

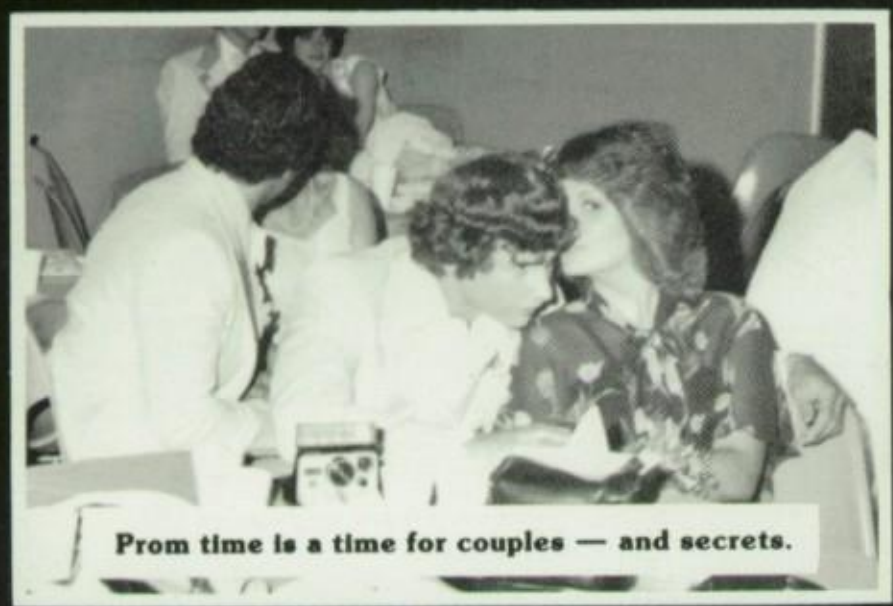
Kathy Brediger is all smiles, but Bill Pohovey looks a little nervous about his first prom.

Paula Whitmore and Tom Wallar find some quiet moments in front of the television in the lounge.



Prom time is a time for couples — and secrets.

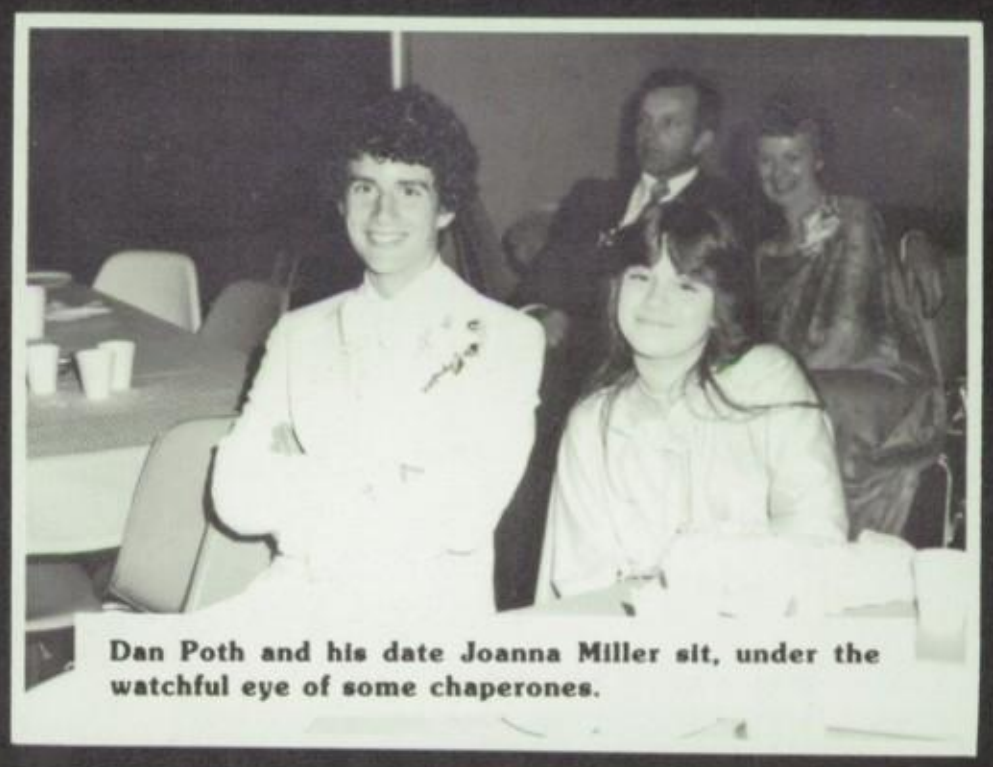
Kevin Shilling and his date pose with Sue Gindlesperger and her escort for the evening.

"Somewhere in the Night" gave seniors a chance to "do their thing" on the dance floor.

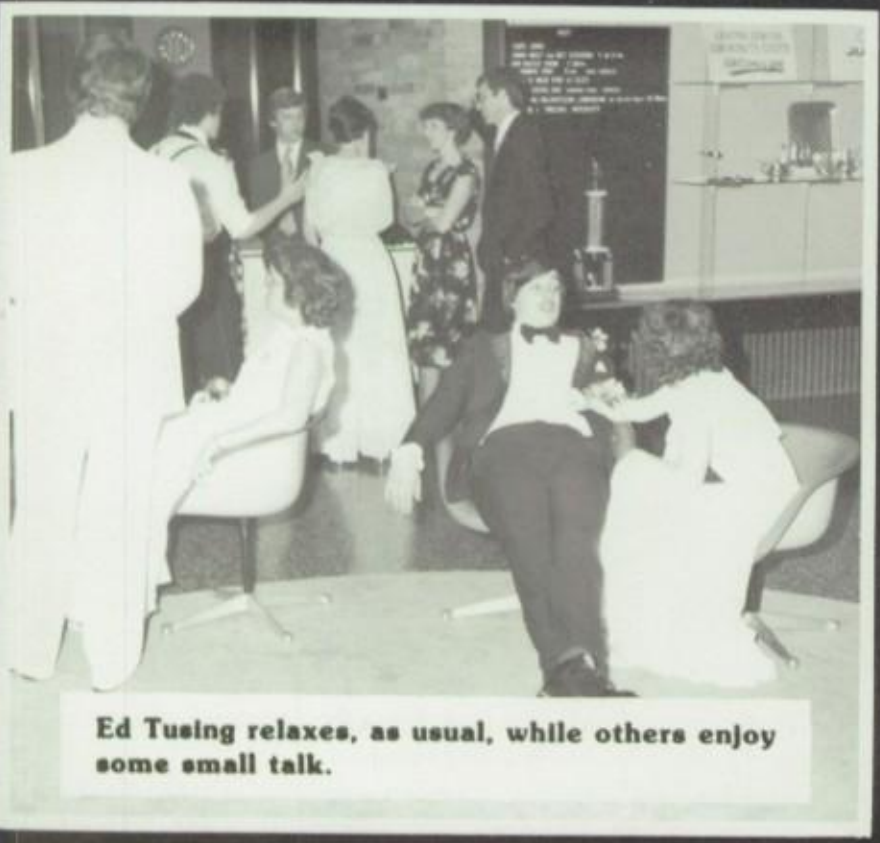
Quiet conversations and friendly joking make prom night something special.

JUNIORS PRESENT PROM TO HONOR SENIORS

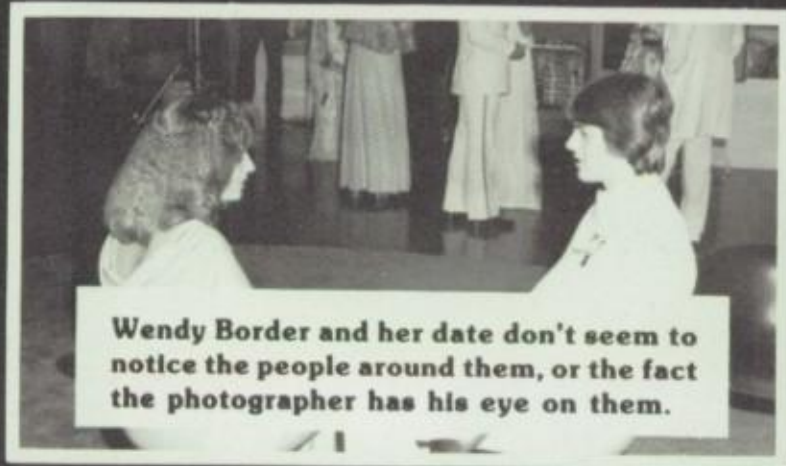
"Girl talk" never seems to end!



Dan Poth and his date Joanna Miller sit, under the watchful eye of some chaperones.



Ed Tusing relaxes, as usual, while others enjoy some small talk.

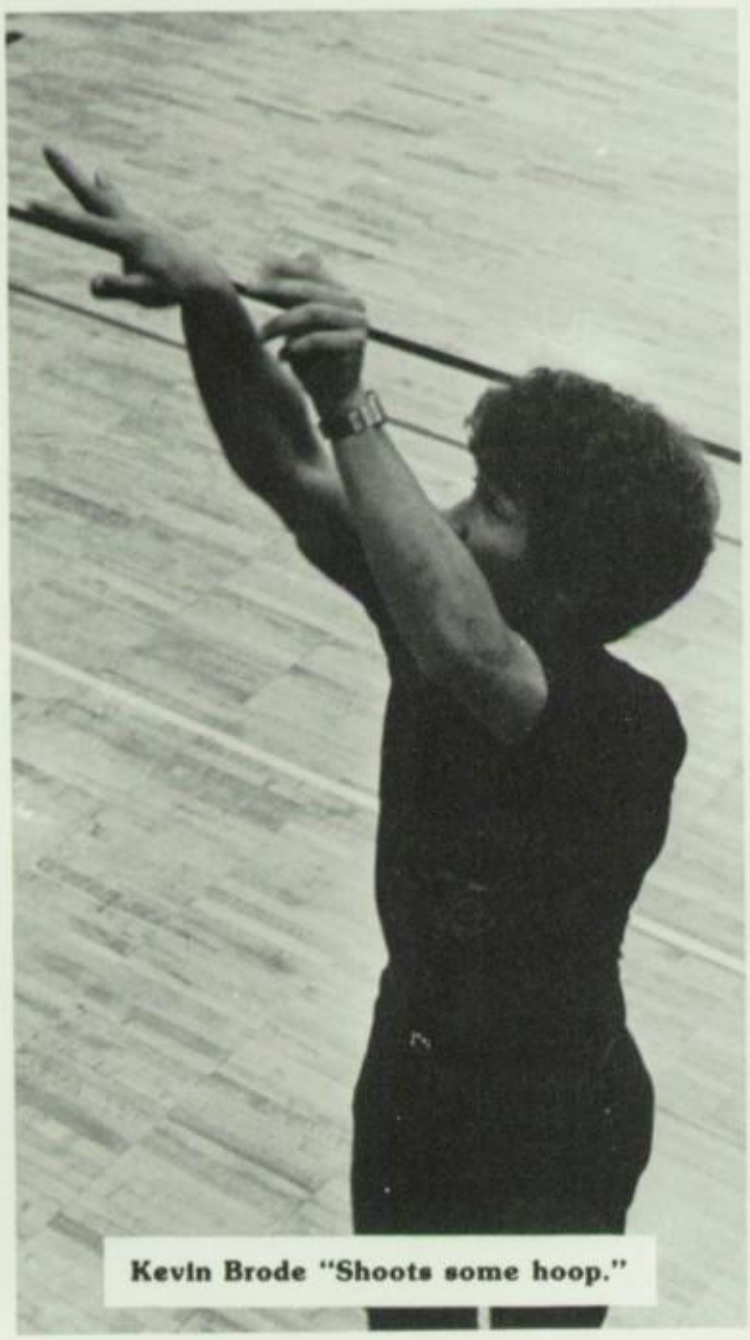


Wendy Border and her date don't seem to notice the people around them, or the fact the photographer has his eye on them.

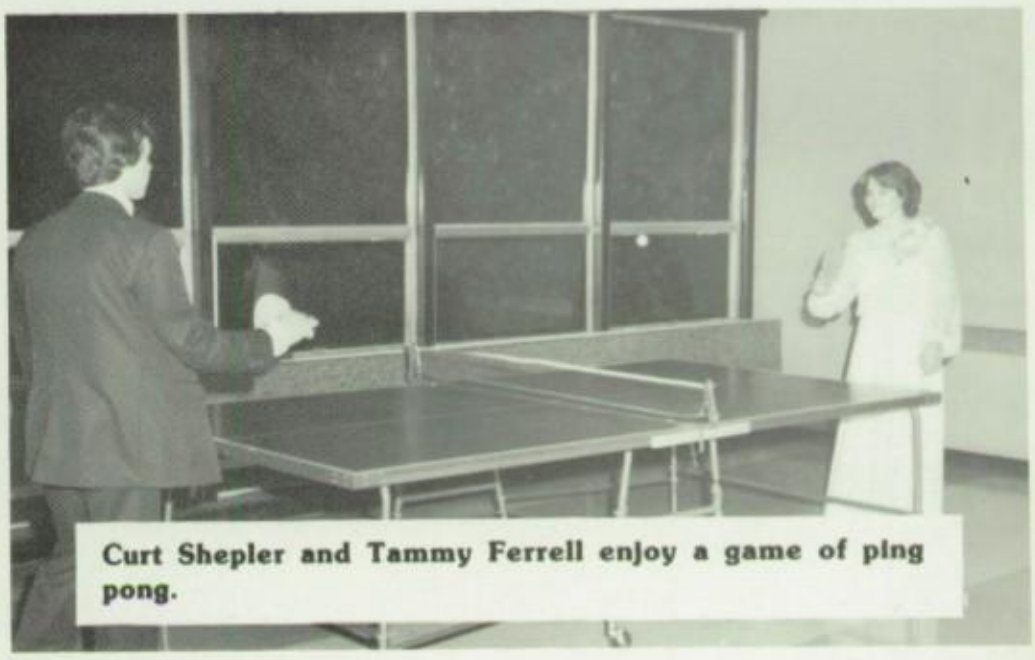
Moving to the Jewish Center was a change for the prom setting. Instead of the usual wook long rest between prom and fun night, the two events were held the same night. Juniors worked year-long to present their prom — "Somewhere in the Night" — for the enjoyment of both the junior and senior classes.

FUN NIGHT WAS JUST THAT — FUN!

Salvador Valencia asks some questions about how to play "the game."



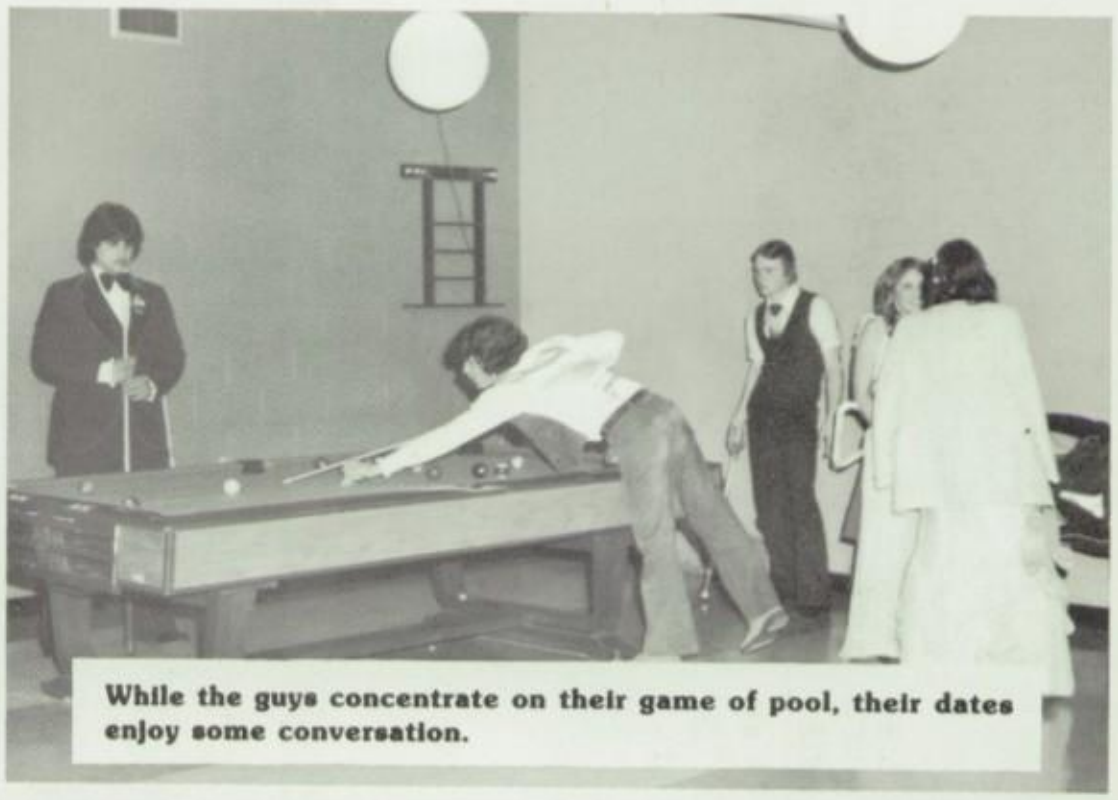
Kevin Brode "Shoots some hoop."



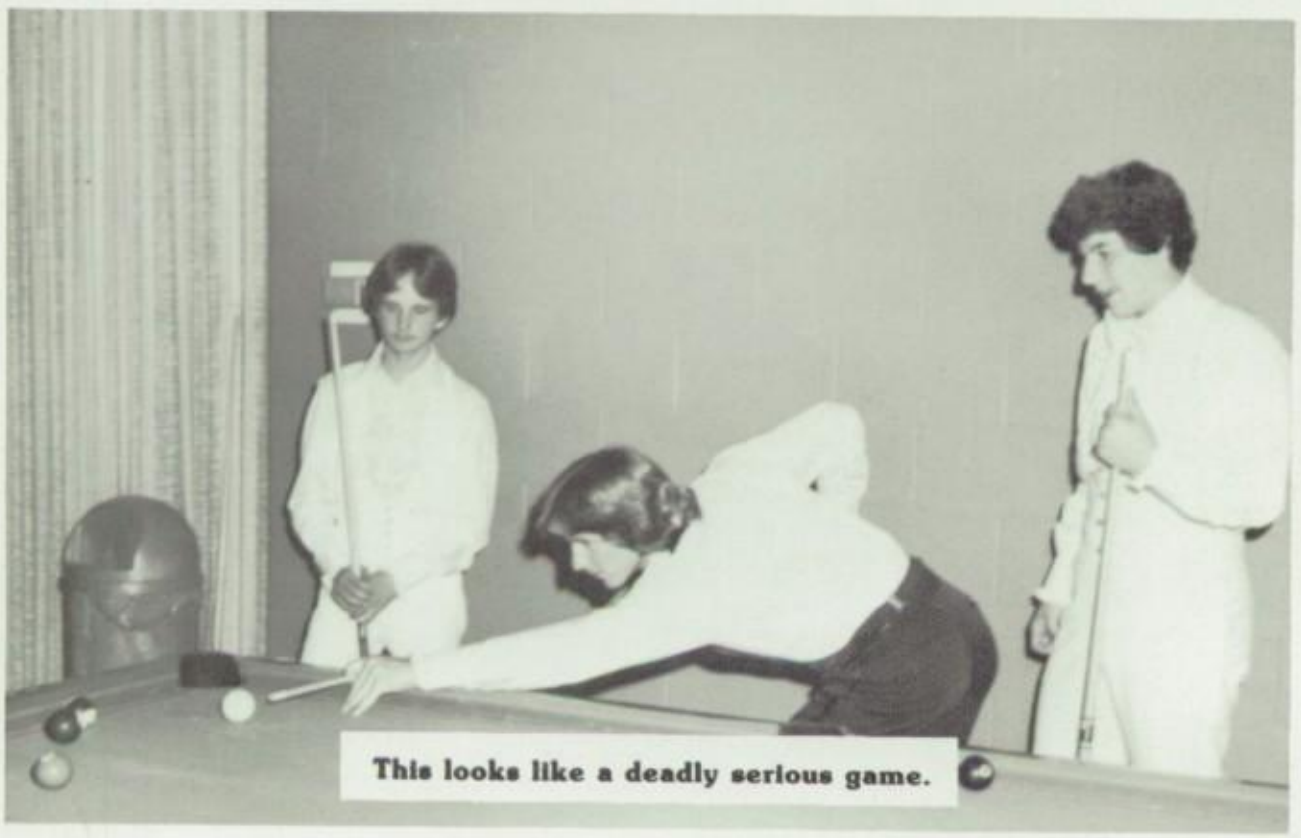
Curt Shepler and Tammy Ferrell enjoy a game of ping pong.

Vicky Myers finds it relaxing to just sit with her date and watch TV.

Chris Ehmer is ready, set, to shoot.



While the guys concentrate on their game of pool, their dates enjoy some conversation.



This looks like a deadly serious game.

STUDENTS HONORED AT CLASS DAY

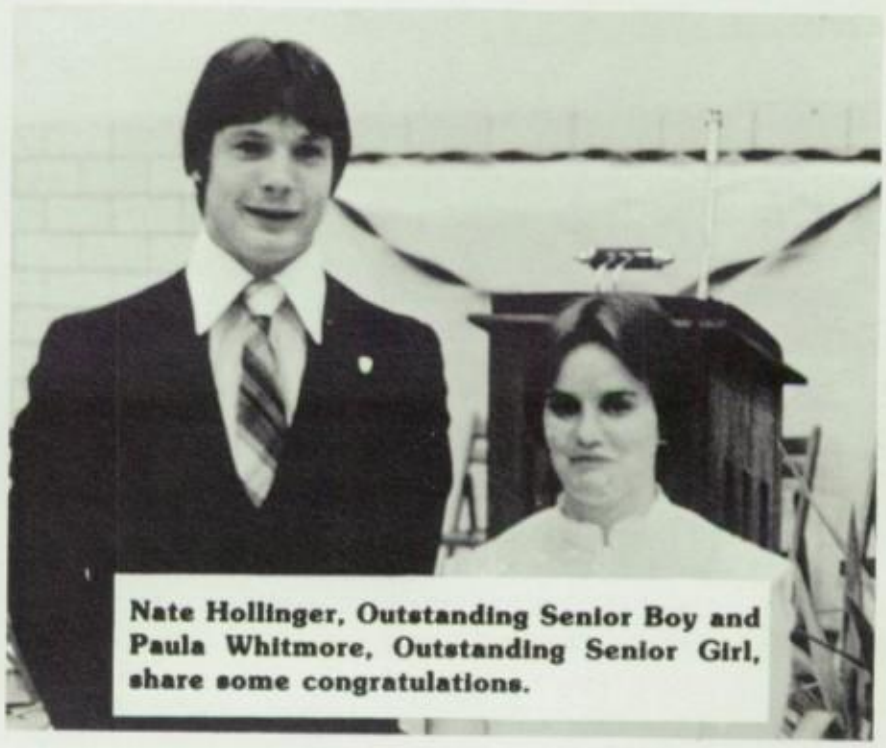
Mike Raff, Industrial Arts; Diana Holt, Home Ec., and Lester Hart, Mechanical Drawing award winners receive recognition.

Twins Terri and Tracy Kimble enter the gym for Class Day.



Nate Hollinger, Outstanding Senior Boy and Paula Whitmore, Outstanding Senior Girl, share some congratulations.

Class Day for 1980 gave the opportunity for many outstanding students to be recognized for their accomplishments. Saying "good-bye" to such a class of achievers was difficult.

COMMENCEMENT HELD FOR CLASS OF '80

The familiar "Pomp and Circumstance" ushered the graduates into the gymnasium for graduation, 1980. Speakers Paula Whitmore, Dan Skirtich and Jim Giessler shared the spotlight, reflecting on the senior class motto. The ceremony ended, but the lives of the Class of 1980 are really just beginning.
